

Remote area first aid

COURSE INFORMATION

This course covers describes the skills and knowledge required to provide a first aid response to a casualty in a remote or isolated site over an extended period until medical assistance is provided, or evacuation occurs. This course is focused on the safety of the first aider and extended care of an ill or injured casualty where help is likely to be delayed.

ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

For participants interested in enrolling in this course:

- Must provide a valid Unique Student Identifier (USI) at the time of enrolment.
- For courses with pre-learning, access to a reliable device (e.g., computer, laptop, or smart phone) connected to the internet is required.
- Must complete pre-learning before coming to class as topics covered in pre-learning are not covered in the classroom.
- Must be able to perform CPR on a manikin on the floor for 2 minutes.

PARTICIPANT COHORT

Participants are drawn from across the Australian community as first aid is considered an important life skill. This course draws individuals in need of first aid expertise for bushwalking, wilderness guiding, and those residing or working in isolated areas. It is structured to provide these individuals, whose interests, pursuits, or jobs lead them to remote settings, with the necessary knowledge and skills to deliver sustained and appropriate care to an unwell or injured individual over an extended duration.

COURSE DURATION AND DELIVERY MODES

St John offers the following options:

- 4 days face to face workshop: This is full face to face course and participants are required to attend all 4 days. Those participants who have completed HLTAID011 Provide First Aid in last twelve (12) months may be entitled to an exemption from the first two days.
- 3 days (face to face workshops with pre-work): This is face to face course and with online prework. Participants are required to undertake online e-learning module prior to attending the face-to-face workshops for practice and assessment. Those participants who have completed HLTAID011 Provide First Aid in last twelve (12) months may be entitled to an exemption from the first day.

- Assessment only: The assessment only option will particularly suit participants who regularly apply first aid skills and engage in ongoing learning about first aid.
